streamline INITIATIVE

BLESSING KIDS THROUGH CHURCH-SCHOOL PARTNERSHIPS

Our schools carry a tremendous burden of trying to meet academic needs in addition to all the social, emotional and physical needs of their students. Nehemiah's Streamline Initiative is a response to the need for "streamlined processes" to help schools access the resources that churches can provide. It provides a bridge between the needs of public schools and the resources of the Christian community. By helping churches and ministries build meaningful relationships with their local public schools, kids will be blessed and schools will be strengthened.

THE VISION

We envision Clark County as a community where every public school is lovingly and effectively supported by local churches in their neighborhood and where every student in need is supported through loving and caring relationships.

Streamline Initiative BLESSING KIDS, STRENGTHENING SCHOOLS

Nehemiah's Streamline Initiative will support schools and the families of their students by:

- Facilitating united and continual prayer for each public school in Clark County.
- Mobilizing local churches to encircle their neighborhood school with support and encouragement.
- Connecting vulnerable students that have a need with local churches in the neighborhood who can meet that need, utilizing the CarePortal technology platform.
- Matching kids with equipped and caring mentors that will build life-changing one-on-one relationships.
- Equipping churches and ministries to provide out-of-school-time programs and enrichment to help kids grow academically, socially, emotionally and spiritually.

CarePortal in Clark County

CarePortal is a critical component of the Streamline Initiative. It is an online platform connecting the needs of those within the community to people who care. Church and local community members within the CarePortal network have the opportunity to respond to those who are struggling or vulnerable in our community.
